A LITTLE MINING TOWN SINKS

The Hamlet of Sootch Valley, Pa. Drops into a Mine-Fifty En-tombed Miners Get Out

Associated Press Lagged-wire Service.

TOFFIKE (Pa.) Sept. 5.—The fittle mining town of Scotch Valley, near this place, was swallowed up tonight in one of the most complete of the many cave-ins known in this region. The scene of the disaster is on the slope of Mt. Lookout, the score of bouses comprising the hamiet, being at the mouth of the shaft of the Mt. Lookout colliery. The wildest excitement prevails throughout the region and details are fragmentary. It is known, however, that the dozen houses on each side of the principal streets of the town are completely swallowed up in the gaping hole and nothing pan be seen of the other buildings of the town but the root, gables and of the town but the roof, gables and chimneys. It is impossible to state ac-curately the number of fatalities or if Parties are exerting every means to release the occupants of the enguised dwellings. One of the buried houses has taken fire. The cave-in was caused by the giving way of timbers and supports in the workings of the Mt. Lookout colliery which has not been in operation for about two years and has been neglected in consequence.

two years and has been neglected in con-sequence.

At 3 p.m. the inhabitants of the hamlet were startled by rumbling reports like failing rook in the caverns of the aban-doned mine, many hundreds of feet be-low them. The ground trembled and swayed like an earthquake beneath them. Report was followed by report and ac-companied by other tremors, the village sank out of sight in the gaping cavern. Meanwhite some 45.y miners were im-prisoned in the colliery. They had been at work in another portion of the mine prisoned in the colliery. They had been at work in another portion of the mine and all means of exit from the mine were completely wheel out by the cave-in.

James Perrin, one of the oldest of the miners, got the men together and started to leaf them up through a tunnel which had been used as an air-shaft. The rescuing party on the surface had made an attempt to cut a passage through the mass of debris which blocked the main entrance. Failing in this, same of the more daring, of the party went into the passage and came to where the imprisoned miners were struggling upward. The men were carried to the surface, where a great crowd of excited people were awaiting them. Up to 9 o'clock tonight all the persons who could be found had been taken from the ruins, although a full roll of those to be accounted for cannot be prepared until merning.

The Government Lacking Intelli-gence from Bluefields.

gence from Bluefields.

Aspeciated Press Leased-wice Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Acting Secretary Uhl said today that the government's reports from Nicaragua on the Bluefields troubles have been very meager. It is inferred from recent reports that the two Americans who were arrested and placed under parole have conformed to the decree of banishment without giving any further trouble to the authorities. The department has not been informed as to whether there was cause for banishment or not, these Americans.

Before leaving Washington Secretary Gresham sent instructions to Minister Baker which were intended to cover all contingencies growing out of the Bluefields affair, and which would protect all Americans in their rights.

Terrific Naval Fight in Korean Waters—Japanese Surrender but Escape — Slaughter in an Underground Mine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The steamship Belgic which arrived at midnight last night brings the following account of a naval battle which has been given out by the Chinese authorities:

On July 25 the Chinese twin screw steel cruiser Chi-Tuen, 2300 tons and 2800 horsepower, and a Japanese man-of-war met in Korean waters. The engagement commenced in the morning and lasted four hours. At the commencement the Chinese sailors refused to work their guns, but on five of them being shot by their own offi-cers, the others fought so well that they raked the Japaness fore and att and car-ried away her bridge, killing the Japanese admiral, but the Japanese plowed off all exposed persons on the Chi-Yuen and exploded a shell on her deck, killing a lieutenant and men working one of the guns.

The Chi-Yuen's effecting gear was carried away and her forward guns disabled, but she steered with her twin screws, and replied to the Japanese with her after gun with such effect that the Japanese surrendered, holsting the dragon flag over a white flag, but before the Chi-Yuen could take possession several Japanese men-ofhoisted their flag again, while the Chi-Yuan hastened to get away, and succeeded in reaching Wethal-Wel for repairs. There is no doubt she was badly damaged. On the next night a fleet of nine Chinese vessels left Weihal-Wei to avenge the dissels left (Weihai-Wei to avenge the disaster to the Chi-Yuen.

The Japanese papers still find it difficult to obtain authentic news of the war, and only accounts of "leged victories as given out by the avernment are allowed to be published. An impertal rescript has been issued affording protection and security to the lives and property of Chinese in Japan. Chinese are required to register.

The Japanese are counidering an unique plan with regard to the disposal of Chinese prisoners. The Chinese already captured appear to be pleased at having been made prisoners, as they receive better treatment than they are accustomed to when at large in their own country. It is proposed to send these prisoners back to China where they with not fail to senet; better countered the Japanese troops, but would throw down their arms and run to the Japanese as self-surrendered prisoners.

Advices from Peking state that the Em peror has sent a first installment of 6,000,000 tacks to Li-Hung-Chang to enable him to carry on the war, and the Empress Dowager will contribute 15,000,000 more from the funds collected for her birthday

A LAND ATTACK.

6, says the details of the Japanese advance upon and capture of Gazan, with particulars of the battle at Scikwan, have been received there. It took the Japanese army, three days to march from a position at Ryuzan, near Seoul, to the vicinity of Gazan. On the morning of July 28 the army came within sight of the Chinese tents. The Chinese camp was situated on a bill at Selkwan, an important position on the Gazan road, about seventeen miles from Gazan. In front of the hill are rice-paddles and marshes, crossed in the middle by a little stream which runs into Gazan Bay, and a narrow path leads up to the hill. It was a position easy to defend and hard to attack. en received there. It took the Japanes hard to attack.

Korea is far hotter than Japan. The kores is tar dotter than Japan. The temperature since July 24 has been 96 or 97 deg. The troops having to carry a heavy load, besides their rifles, through a wretched road, were extremely fattgued and upon their arrivel at 10 m.m. they were wildwed to rest themselves, though the enemy's camp was only three miles away. But as they had no tents they had to sit under the burning sun on the grass, while Gen. Oshkna could only find two mattings to shade himself. There was no pure water and the troops had to slake their thirst with muddy water of the paddies. At midnight the army left, the two At midnight the army left, the two wings forming two separate companies. There was only one path to the hill, and there was a bridge over the stream, which had to be crossed. The main body crossed the bridge at 2 o'clock, but when the last detachment was on the point of crossing about 3 o'clock, over five hundred Chinese troops in ambush near the bank cut off troops in ambush near the bank cut off the bridge and opened fire on the detach-ment at about ninety feet distance. As the attack was sudden and behind

As the attack was sudden and behind the detachment there was only the medical corps, the Japanese troops were at first confused; but Capt. Matsurski at once ordered them to march forward, and the troops, encouraged by the order, rushed upon the Chinese with a shout and bore them down. In the skirmish, on the Japanese side, six men were killed by the enemy, seventeen or eighteen were drowned, and fifteen or sixteen were wounded. The Chinese fied, leaving behind eighteen or nineteen killed, among whom was an officer and two prisopers.

All then was quiet for two hours. At 6 o'clock the Japanese left wing opened firs, but the Chinese did not respond until the Japanese had fired fourteen or fifteen rounds. Then began the fight in earnest. The two wings attacked the Chinese at the same time. The Japanese charged with a shout upon the enemy, and each charge effected a new lodgment. The Chi-charge effected a new lodgment. The Chi-ness then retreated.

After an hour and a half, the battle was over and quiet was restored. It appears that the Chinese general, Che, had at first come to defend the outposts at Selkwan with one thousand troops, but, hearing that the Japanese army had left Ryuzan, over fifteen hundred more troops had been brought from Gazan under Gen. Che on July 27 and 28. They had intended, in case of defeat, to retreat to Ten-An, a gar-risoned town about twenty-five miles east of Selkwan, but the Japanese left wing at-tacked them from the east to drive them back to Gasan.

Though the Chinese ambuscade at the bridge was to be praised, their setting up their guns immediately around their tents showed their ignorance of tactics, for it their tents were set on fire by cannon they would not only be unable to extin Chinese fought outside the gun parapets with the intention evidently of taking ref-uge there if they were beaten back. But the sudden charges of the Japanese gave the sudden charges of the Japanese gave them no time to run within the parapets. They fied, leaving their flags behind.

On a hill to the left of the main camp was a hick wood, within which the Chi-nese had their cannon. It commanded the Japanese army, which approached it with-out suspecting any camp, when a sudden volley of cannon and small arms took the latter by surprise. This camp held out longest. Here, too, several flags were found. Around the camp of the Chinese artillery, against which the Japanese right wing advanced, cannon were set, with pal-isades around the parapet. They were broken down by the Japanese, and four or five artillery officers and over ten men were killed. The Japanese officers praise highly the skill of the Chinese artillery at this fight. Gen. Oshima and Lieut.-Col. Fukushima had a narrow escape.

The Chinese loss may be computed at over one hundred killed and four hundred wounded, making a total of over five hundred. The Japanese loss in the dred. The Japanese loss in the se-fight was a little over twenty, woun Mai. Hashimoto was slightly wounded in fused medical attention until the was over. Several Chinese were taken for their lives with clasped hands.

The Chinese general, Che, is a noted officer under Li-Hung-Chang, and is well known among Europeans for the successful suppression of the mounted brigands of Manchuria. The general cannot escape responsibility for the defeat at Selkwah. His behavior on this occasion utterly be-lied his reputation, and showed him to be a man of no great military attainment, for, when the Japanese troops attacked his camp he deserted it, threw away his uniform as an incumbrance to flight, and left behind the papers which, as a general rule, he should never have allowed to leave his side. It is not known where

Gen. Che has fied.

The prizes taken in the camp were five pieces of cannon, a quantity of powder, fifty or sixty old spears and an abundance of clothing and provisions. Leaving the camp under the care of a small detachment, the main body began to pursue the fleeing enemy, a detachment having been already sent from the first to oppose the retreat. Till about 5 o'clock in the after-retreat. Till about 5 o'clock in the afternoon the noise of the artillery was heard without interruption, causing the death of more than three hundred Chinese.

Another detachment was dispatched towards A-San, under the command of Lleut.-Col. Takeda. This advance guard reached A-San at 3 o'clock in the same afternoon, only to find that the Chinese were all gone. At noon of July 31 the main body joined the advance guard at A-San in the quarter deserted by the Chinese Chinese.

The arms, ammunition and provisions were plentiful encush to load more than ten Japanese junks. This was done were plentiful encugh to load more than ten Japanese jumks. This was done promptly, and it was arranged that, reloaded on bigger Korean vessels at Paik-Du-Jin, situated on the Gulf of Nak-Yang, the prizes should be transported to Chemulpo. The Chinese had laid several mines in the vicinity of A-San, but they all failed to explode. On the road which the Chinese took in their flight, were found uniforms, hats and boots. They had all, entered farm-houses and obtained there by force Korean dresses to disguise themselves in. Several uniforms, apparently of officers, were also found on the road, on which were also seen continuous drops of blood.

The Japanese army pursued the Chinese for twelve miles to Yoran, a little virlage about five miles from Gazan. As a Chinese attack was expected that night, a strict outlook was kept, but the night these duetly. At 4 o'chock the next morning, July 30, the army marched upon Gazan. It was expected that the Chinese would make a desperate stand at Gazan, and there was a general boding that the storming of Gazan would be attended with heavy tosses, but on arrival there, the army found to its astonishment that the trenches were deserted with many hundreds of thousands of rounds of powder and 600 or 700 bags of rice. They had all fied to Koshu. There were only fifty re-maining behind at Gazan. These had atmaining behind at Gazan. These had attempted a manufacture of the Japanese army on August 5 the Japanese army

The Chinese troops, who were routed at eigenan appear to be fleeing homeward through Chushu, Ruishun and Keisho. All is quiet at Seoul. JAPS BLOWN UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The offi-cers and passengers of the Belgic could give little news of the war. When a reporter boarded the steamer at midnight of the wires in the two countries, and would not let any news get out. Little was known beyond what was brought over in the papers.

the papers.

One story was told of the remarkable cunning of the Chinese in an engagement, but the name of the place where the battle took place was not known, except that it was on the Korean border. A small detachment of Chinese was sent out to stack a strong torce of Japanese. The latter turned out in force and sincest annihilated the small band of Chinese. Those who were left retreated and lured the Japanese into an underground mine. anese into an underground mine.

When the exuitant Japaness rushed forward, shouting out victorious cries, the mine was fired and about 500 Japanese were blown into the air. The entire Chi-nese force then swarmed against the remainder and cut them down. The general belief among the officers of the Belgic is that the Chinese would not be a great while in bringing the Japanese governmen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Before Secretary Gresham left for the West, he had a conference with the Chinese Minister, concerning the Chinese treaty, which was concerning the Chinese treaty, which was ratified by the Senate a abort time before adjournment. Minister Yang-Yu told Secretary Gresham that, owing to the war, no action, had been taken by the Chinese government. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—General surprise has been created in the Japanese colony in this city by the arrival on the steamer Belgic early this morning of S. steamer Beigic early this morning of S. It was not known that a change was contemplated, and the cause is something of a mystery. TOO MUCH OPPOSITION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.-Fannie SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Fannie Liddiard, the contralto, was among the passengers who arrived from Asiatic ports on the steamer Belgic. Only a few weeks since Miss Liddiard left San Francisco as the star member of an operatroupe that was to play through the treaty ports of Japan and China and on Liddia This controlle agreements. to India. This operatic aggregation met a cold reception, finding the field monopo-lized by the black plague and the war, and Miss Liddiard was the only member who succeeded in procuring passage back to America. The others are stranded in Japan. FLEBING FOR SAFETY.

SHANGHAI Sept. 5.—The alarm among the Japanese continues to spread and they may now be said to be fleeing the country, was there seems to be little or no protection for them here. Kelly became exhausted and Hogan could not urge him on. By this time Hogan's fest were so badly blistered that he was compelled to take to his hands and knees. Kelly, meantime, had dragged himself to the head of the ravine upon which he lost his head, and, falling, rolled over and over until he struck the bottom of the gully dead. Hogan, all Saturday night, lay there in the ravine, and on Sunday, started for Sandstone on his hands and started for Sandstone on his hands and nees. The death-roil at Hinckley is growing, but slowly. Early today the remains of seven bedies were brought in from the eastern county road. This brings the total of Hinckley's dead to 221, and in the vicinity of Hinckley to upward of 230. As yet it has been impossible to approach the mill-pond. The heap of sawdust and edging which form its bank are still sending up dense clouds of blinding smoke. At Pine City, the work of rescue to running smokes are properly.

PUEBLO (Colo.,) Sept. 5.—Pandemonium broke loose in the Populist State Convention almost as soon as it was called to order at 9:15 o'clock today. The majority report of the Committee on Gredentials favored seating the Waite delegate from Denver, and the Barela delegates from Los Animas county. Waite and Barels have reached an understanding, and Senator Barela, already nominated for State Treasurer by the Democrats, will also receive the Populist nomination.

Thomas M. Patterson, leader of the opposition to Waite, endeavored to speak. The convention refused to hear him until the majority report of the Credentials Committee had been adopted with a hurrab. A motion was then carried allowing

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—If the atti-tude of the Korean Minister, who is in the tude of the Korean Minister, who is in the city, toward the two oriental powers powengaged in war is any indication of the feeling which Korea entertains for kis neighboring mations then Korea is the firm friend of China. The Korean Minister, Soo, arrived here from Washington a few days ago on his way home. He had in tended to sail on the China, but became ill and had to postpone his departure. He declined the services of an American doctor, and also spurned the services of a Japanese physician who offered to attend him. Minister Soo sent to Chinatown and engaged a Chinese doctor who cured him. The Minister then engaged passage on the Belgic which sails September 8, but has changed his mind on learning that the cousin of the Japanese Emperor, Prince Komatsu, also intends leaving on the Belgic. ELKINS (W. Va.,) Sept. 5.—The Republicans of the Second Congress District never had so large a convention as that which nominated Alstone Gordon Dayton of Barbour county to run against Chairman W. L. Wilson for Congress. Ex-President Harrison arrived at 1 p.m., and is the guest of ex-Secretary Elkins. A committee was appointed to call upon the ex-President, and invite him to address the convention. He was greated with loud applause. Mr. Harrison, after stating he had not expected to make a speech, said in part:

ceedings.

E. A. Musford, Jr., manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, produced over 2000 telegrams bearing upon the strike. The defense bitterly objected to the admission of the telegrams, but Judge Woods finally admitted them. Dozens were read, and when the famous "Save your money and buy guns" message was read, it was found it had also contained the words: "Tell Effe I am well," showing it to be a private telegram.

Attorney Gregory took another occasion to denounce the prosecution for giving an incomplete message for publication. Judge Woods said he did not consider the garbling of the dispatch amounted to much.

"When I read that telegram in the paper," said the court, "I did not attach much importance to it, as it did not appear sparticularly incendiary."

It was shown that Debs had nothing to do with sending this dispatch. At this point Debs entered the couri-room, He seemed scarcely able to stand as he walked slowly to his seat. Debs left his bed against his physician's orders.

Contractor Brennock testified having secured during the strike an order of non-tinterference from Debs, which he used in having some switching done in the railroad yards. He said he experienced much difficulty having railroad cars moved.

the convention. He was greeted with loud applause. Mr. Harrison, after stating he had not expected to make a speech, said in part:

"You are assembled to discharge a public duty, and I will not, therefore, detain you with any speech. This district will be before all eyes this autumn. This contest is not local. It happens your present representative has been assigned to prepare the tariff bill, and has attached his name to it. It is, therefore, expected that his conduct will be subjected to severe and careful scrutiny. Fortunately the proclamation has been made by Prasident Cleveland and Mr. Wilson that the tariff bill is not a finality, but this distinctive warfars is to go on. If you approve this, show it by returning Mr. Wilson to Congress; but if, on the other hand, you have fest the effects of the depression; if you think more of those who prefer to lead the country through the slough of despondency, show it by defeating him.
"I cannot say much of the last administration; delicacy forbids me to say much of this, but if you consider the heads of departments and subordinate officers, you will see that there was an attempt to act for the best interests of all peoply. I cannot say how we have succeeded, but only that we have done the best we could do. If the people at the elections this fall condemn the recent action on the tariff, we shall have an end of the sariff tinkerings. When the tide of emigration started from the seaboard it turned to Ohio and the interior valleys; but it is now turned toward West Virginia. Now the spring of commerce is coursing through our fertile valleys. The pick and showel are busy. Is this a time through cheap ocean rates to bring into competition with your products the cheap coal of Nova Scotia? I speak as a pairiotic American who feels an interest in the honest people. To your judgment by the quiet Nevenber firesides this question must be settled, and you have the courses to do your duty."

Ex-President Harrison was received with enthusiasm, and his brief speech was applauded at QUO WARRANTO AND PULLMAN. QUO WARRANTO AND PULLMAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A quorum of the Atchison Reorganisation Committee was not secured for today's meeting, and hence no business was done, but the members present informally discussed the prospects of the company from a business standpoint. An effort will be made to get a quoyum for a meeting paxt Monday. Receiver Walker, says he will make his regular headquarters in Chicago; that his bonds will be filed beginning with today, in the several States in which it is required to file them, and he will make a tour of the road within the next two months. The Atchison Protective Committee held a meeting today and drew up another letter to stockholders which will probably be issued this evening or tomorrow.

In his polition, Sibley states among other things that he speaks a reversion of his agreement to subscribe to the Times Company's stock, 'by reason of the frauda and deceits practiced upon him,' and he asks that his relation to the Times as a stockholder be 'utterly severed,' and states that he has come into a court of equity for the protection against liability as a stockholder as to any complication with creditors of that company. CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 5.—From a thoroughly reliable source the Times as informed that the underwriters, as they may be termed of the reorganization scheme of the Richmond and West Point Terminal and the Bast Tennasse, Virginia and Georgis Raflway are none other than the Rothschilds of London and Paris and the Vanderbilts of New York, Cornelius and William E. The Rothschilds have one-quarter, the Vanderbilts have one-quarter, Drexel, Morgan & Oo. one-quarter and J. S. Morgan one-quarter. The reorganization provided for $30,000,000 of new capital, and it is the sum that the quartette has agreed to supply, and more if necessary. There is now very little doubt that the Southern railroad project is simply an extension of the Vanderbilt system into and through the South.

> THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY. THE CONVENTION.

The Republican County Convention making haste slowly, but it has its work well up to date. The irst business taken up yesterday rning was the appointment of the new County Central Committee, which was disposed of in short order, and en nominations for Superior Judges filled in the time until the noon ress. On reconvening, balloting was proceeded with, resulting in the section of Judge Waldo M. York on the first ballot, and Judge Walter Van Dyke on the second. Next came nomnations for Superintendent of Education, Prof. Spurgeon Riley of Redondo being nominated after an exciting contest. Mrs. Kate Tupper Galpin developed greater strength than she was generally credited with having, due in a great measure to the intiring efforts of the ladies who have had her candidacy in charge, but the onvention was in no humor for nonpartisan candidates, and in consence the prize was lost.

Then came the most exciting conest of the convention, the fight for Sheriff, which resulted in the defeat of John C. Cline, the incumbent, by ohn Burr of San Fernando, thus mashing the slate at the outset and riking a blow at boss rule which will lave its effect for years to come. It a great victory for the opp of the Lindley-Webber ring, and then the fight was won the conventon adjourned at 11:50 o'clock to 9 clock this morning.

During the day the following district nominations were also made: Robert N. Bulla for Assemblyman rom the Seventy-fifth District, deeating Henry C. Carter: H. L. Woodrd for Supervisor for the First Suvisor District by acclamation, and 8. Field for Supervisor for the trd District.

MR. MORTON AGAIN.

Entered at the Los Angeles Postoffice for transmission as second-class mail matter. that the delegates to these irrigation conventions are simply working for the purpose of getting the government to give away the arid lands to the States, that is a sweeping assertion which does great injustice to a number of worthy men who have gone to considerable trouble and expense in attending these conventions. It is true that a strong effort is being made to nduce an expression of opinion in favor of State ownership of the arid lands, but that movement was very decidedly sat down upon in the Los Angeles convention, as we have no doubt it will be at Denver. As at present understood, it appears that the delegates from Nevada, Kansas and Idaho favor the cession of those lands to the States, while Colorado, Wyoming and Montana are against the proposition, California and Arizona being divided.

The Times has so frequently expressed its opinion on this subject that it is unnecessary to repeat it here, except to warn the delegates to these conventions who are working to further the objects of speculators and schemers, that the people of the country are "onto" their little game, and that It will not be allowed to succeed, even if they should manage through trickery and wire pulling to get the indorsement of half a dozen conventions. Meantime the assertion of Mr. Morton that the only object of the delegates to these conven tions is to get the arid lands away from the government is absurd and insulting. The delegations to these conventions include men of national reputation, not only from the United States, but from a dozen other countries, and to class them all as financial schemers working against the in terest of the people is as ridiculous as it is unjust. The President should "call down" his Commissioner of Agriculture.

A WOMAN'S REPULSE.

The defeat, in the Republican con vention, of Mrs. Katé Tupper Galpin for Superintendent of Public Instruc tion is much deplored by her champions, but it was inevitable. She received a considerable vote, but was overcome by Prof. Spurgeon Riley, a "horrid man." Had Mrs. Galpin and her friends pursued different tactics from the start of her campaign for this office, the result might have been favorable to her. It was a mistake on her part and that of her advisers not to confine her efforts to securing the Republican nomination; it was at tempted, on the contrary, to spread over more political territory than she could hope to effectively cover, and to reach out for the Populist, the Probibition and the Republican indorse ments. (The Democratic approval still remains to be sought for.)

We know that many Republicans, selection of a woman for this educational position, were repelled when they saw the candidate here named coquetting with all the political parties, while acknowledging fealty to

The indorsement of one political party was sure to handicap the receiver of it with the other parties. Mrs. Galpin was advised of that fact at an early stage in the game; but her enthusiastic women advocates and close male advisers saw fit to overrule the advice, and urged her to go for everything in sight, politically. The result is before them. They will be wiser next time; and some of them may perhaps be less censorious.

THE MANCHESTER SHIP CANAL

A disputch from London announces that the first half yearly report of the directors of the Manchester ship canal, which great enterprise was recently described in The Times, is not a favorable one. The total net revenue from tolls on the canal amounts to $40,000, and the total net revenue from all sources to $175,000. The interest due on debentures is $750,000. There is, therefore, a deficit of much more than half a million dollars to be provided for. The company has unappropriated resources amounting to $2,250,000 and can, however, meet the interest due easily, of the balance of the last corporation loan and of the reserve fund, on both of which there are heavy calls for construction purposes and future half-yearly interest payments over and above revenue. Notwithstanding this unfavorable showing, the directors have confidence in the future. As might have been expected, a bitter war has broken out between Manchester and Liverpool, which takes the form of rate cutting. The railroads are also doing all they can to injure the enterprise.

It may be thought by some that the lack of decided financial success in this great work is a bad omen for the uccess of the Nicaragua Canal. Such ion to draw. The two case

A more proper comparison would be with the Suez canal, which has paid enormously from the start. Those who have investigated the subject thoroughly say that the Nicaragua canal should pay even better than that of Suez.

"Rydall" sends to the editor of The Times a lugubrious protest against the in-humanity of the managers of the Democratic street rally held in this city Saturday night. The gravamen of "Rydall's" wall is the alleged fact that no seats were provided for the occasion, and that the disciples of the great unwashed were obliged to stand around for three long hours, until they were physically, mentally and morally exhausted. As flight after flight of elo-'Rydall," excitedly, "more and more tired they became. Every mother and every mother's son was almost too tired to stand simply terrible. It is one of those things which cause us to lose faith in the ultimate destiny of the human race. It is some thing which seems to call for official intervention. The Times would suggest that the indignant Rydall bring this superlative outrage to the attention of the proper authorities-say to the S.P.C.A., or the S. P.V. Perhaps, on second thought, Chief Glass could do something in the premises, or possibly the W.C.T.U. might be induced to take the matter up in the interest of outraged humanity. At all events, some thing should be done, and speedily, or the nation is likely to go down in red ruin To ask or expect any mother or mother's son to stand around on the outskirts of an undeodorized crowd for three hours. imblbing the fumes of Democratic elqquence, is too, too, much. In Mr. Gregg's Defense.

A correspondent, who signs himself "John Brown"—which is probably not his name — writing from San Francisco, in reply to an article recently published in The Times, entitled "Mr. Gregg's Measure." devotes the major part of his communication, which would fill a column if printed, to scurrilous abuse of the writer of that article. The Times has no space for matter of this kind, but gives the only decent part of "Brown's" communication below:

"Mr. Gregg's record as an honorable, respectable and respected man has never been questioned by friend or foe.

Very few men are as well informed as is Mr. Gregg upon all the leading topics of the day. He is a man of large brain, capable of understanding the needs of the present time; a man who could not be beught; one whose record is sweet, clean and wholesome; one who is dearly beloved by his wife and daughters, and of whom his friends are proud."

DENVER, Sept. 5.—In the National Irrigation Convention Congress today ex-Gov. Prince of New Mexico, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, announced that the committee would be ready to report tomorrow.

W. W. Follett, a civil engineer of Denver, read a paper on "The Underflow Waters of the Great Plain." He graphically described the underflow of Colorado ally described the underflow of Contract and Kansas, and gave his opinion that it was not supplied by melting snow in the mountains so much as from streams and rainfalls.

Robert Hay, State Geologist of Kansas read a paper on "The Waters of the Plains." He described the irrigation sys-tem of his State, and prophesied that be-fore the end of the next decade every acre in Western Kansas would be under cultivation and the state have a popula-tion of 2,000,000.

tion of 2,000,000.
Mrs. M. A. Hamm-Fales, wife of the American Consul to Amoy, China, read a paper on: "The Ancient and Modern Irri-gation of China and Japan." The system in those countries, she said, was over 3000 years old, but was very crude.

The Congress elected the following national executive committee: William E. Smy he, chairman: Fred L. Alles of California, secretary; Prof. Edwin M. Boggs Arizona; Alvin M. West of California; l B. Gooff of Idaho; J. W. Gregory of Kansas; J. E. Belt of Minnesota; Samuel D. Robbins of Montana; I. Ford of Nebraska; Elwood Mead of Wyoming; Charles E. Ford of Rhode Island; Col. Max Frost of New Mexico; W. H. Godding of Wisconsin; William A. Pearcs of Canada; Don Ramon J. de Ybarrola of Mexico; Thomas Knight of Missouri; B. A. Misner of South Dakota; A. L. Kellogg of Colorado. Judge Emory of California was continued as National Lecturer. B. Gooff of Idaho; J. W. Gregory of Kan

ecturer. The president of the Transmississipp Congress at the morning session invited the congress to appoint delegates to at-tend their meeting to be held in St. Louis the last of November. Complying with this request, W. E. Smythe and Judge Emery of California and Col. Mead of Wyoming were appointed immediately on the congress assembling for the afternoon session.

The first paper read after this was by Capt. A. Glassford, U.S.A., on "Meteorological Factors and Climatic Constants of Arid America." This was followed by Morris Byen, United States Land Department, on "Right of Way for Canals and Reservoirs for Irrigation, Purposa," Heart on "Right of Way for Canals and Reservoirs for Irrigation Purposes." He at some length gave an account of what his department was doing toward the reclamation of arid lands. He assured the delegtates that the government was heartly in sympathy with the object of this congress, and was disposed to give any assistance possible to aid in redeeming the desert lands, which, he believed, under a system of irrigation, would become the finest agricultural lands in America.

F. H. Newell of Arizona, connected with the United States Geological Survey, was introduced and delivered a most interesting address on "The Present Condition of Public Lands," which was illustrated with topographical charts. Congresman H. H.

ownership of small farms instead of land syndicates securing possession of large tracts and leasing to the farmers. He denounced the Carey act, as it would be the means of throwing into the hands of syndicates the 1,000,000 acres granted each arid State and Territory.

The States not having the money to develop these lands will be compelled to turn them over to the corporations under certain agreements to develop them. This would place the farmers in a condition similar to the serfs of Europe. He favored government reclamation, and, if necessary to accomplish this purpose, bonds or treasury notes should be issued which could be redeemed by the sale of lands. leemed by the sale of Senator J. M. Carey of Wyoming, the author of the Carey bill, replied to Congressman Coffeen in defense of his measure. He believed "the nearer you get to an individual the better you can do business," and that the States can construct and duct these irrigation canals cheaper and better than can the managers of the gov-ernment, who live in Washington. Under the provision of the bill no State or Territory is compelled to accept this grant of 1,000,000 acres of arid land. It is for these tory is compelled to accept this grant of 1,000,000 acres of arid land. It is for these commonwealths to settle this matter by their Legislatures accepting or rejecting the conditions of the government. If accepted, the States can dispose of the lands to individual settlers, companies or corporations on such terms, quantities and conditions as the people wish, and syndicates need not be given control unless it it thought best to do so.

Something must be done, he said, with these lands, and, while the measure is not all to be desired, it is all the West could get at this time, and the good so overbalances the evil that it is a great advancement toward the end desired. It is simply an experiment, and if the States make good use of this donation, there is no doubt that Congress will make additional grants of these arid lands. "I trust this Congress will indorse the measure," said Senator Carey, "and the States will make a great effort to successfully reclaim these lands."

Recess was then taken until 7 o'clock.

make a great effort to successfully reclaim these lands."

Recess was then taken until 7 o'clock.

At the evening session of the congress the following cities were put in fomination as the place for holding the next session: El Reno, Okla.; San Antonio, Tex.; Albuquerque, N. M.; Spokane, Wash., and Atlanta, Ga. Albuquerque was made the unanimous choice of the congress, which then adjourned until Friday morning.

At 11 o'clock the delegates left here in a special train of Pullman cars for Rocky Ford, Las Animas and La Junta, where they will visit the irrigation works along the Arkansas River. They will also attend the celebration of Watermeion day at Rocky Ford, where 36,000 watermeions are placed in one buge pyramid in celebration of this occasion.

CONGRESSIONAL LEGISLATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Apropes of the CONGRESSIONAL LEXISLATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Apropos of the Denver Irrigation Congress, Representative Sweet of Idaho, a member of the Irrigation Committee in charge of irrigation legislation during the last session of Congress, has this to say: "I, of course, have no notion of what may be done or what the convention expects to do. The House Committee having charge of the matter, reported a bill during the last session looking to such surveys in the arid lands awill enable Congress to make appropriations for the reclamation of these lands. It is a national question, and the nation should protect the settlers until the latter is settled on his land and the owner of his water right.

"The proposed plan of turning the land over to the States is impracticable, and is the beginning of a system of landlordism that I hope never to see in America. The Government can reclaim these lands with money borrowed at 3 per cent. The expense to the State, when the State can obtain it at all, would be double that rate, and as the cost of reclamation would doubtless be included in the price at which land is sold to the settler, the duty of the nation becomes obvious. It is said-Congress will not appropriate the money. I am satisfied Congress will make the appropriations, beginning cautiously, and further, from actual investigation. I am satisfied that there would be more opposition developed to a transfer of the kinds than to the irrigation appropriations.

"The East is beginning to realize that it cannot allow the system of jobbery that would inevitably follow a universal transfer of lands to take place, and it also featizes that the work of development must be commenced. When interstate questions are involved such as storage in Colorado and Wyoming for Kansas and Nebraska, such questions the National Government alone can dispose of. The convention may be of great service if it represents the real wishes of the farmers of the ard regions and the best interests of all the people."

AMID THE ICE.

DR. COOK'S ARCTIC EXPLORING STEAMER LOST.

The Miranda Strikes on a Hidden Reef Near Sukkertoppen, Green-land — Exciting Times — Rescue and Hunger.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NORTH SYDNEY (N. B.,) Sept. 5.—(Associated Press copyright, 1894.) Schooner Rigedow of Gloucester, Mass., Capt. G. W. D. Non, arrived here today having on board the crew and passengers of the steamer Miranda, which left New York on July 7 with Dr. Cook's Arctic excursion. All parties are well. On August 9 the Miranda sfruck a rock near Sukkertoppen, West Greenland, and was sbandomed in a sinking condition August 23 in Davis Straits, latitude about 61 deg. 15 min N., longitude 58 deg. 40 min W. The particulars of the expedition and its disastrous termination are as follows:

After repairing the damage sustained by the iceberg collision on July 17, the Miranda left St. Johns, N. F., on July 29 and proceeded directly to Greenland. Much ice and fog were unexpectedly encountered off Cape Farewell. At one time the vessel came near being nipped in the floes, the rising of a fog disclosing ice all around. Considerable apprehension was felt by the officers, and visions of the fate of the Jeanette and Proteus expeditions arose considerable apprenension was test by the officers, and visions of the fate of the Jeanette and Proteus expeditions arose among the passengers. The Miranda was totally unfit to cope with the terrors of Arctic navigation, but fortunately a thin place in the floes was found and the ship was driven through.

The southwest coast of Greeland was so blocked with lee that no landing could be made until August 1, when the expedition reached Sukkertoppen, in latitude 59 deg. 25 min, N. Leaving this port on the morning of August 9 for Disco, the vessel had proceeded about seven miles at full speed when she struck with tremendous force on a hidden reef. Everything loose went flying forward! A party at breakfast found themselves piled up with dishes and vlands at the end of the cabin. Three viands at the end of the cabin. Three times the high waves lifted the ship and let her down with a crash that shook her from end to end. When she floated off times the high waves lifted the ship and let her down with a crash that shook her from end to end. When she floated off great excitament prevailed, as the vessel was seen to be estiling.

The boats were swung off and everything made ready to abandon the steamer. It was found, however, that the main injury was beneath the ballast tank, which filled so rapidly that the pumps could not control the inflow, but the watertight bulk head protected the other compartments. The situation of so large a body of excursionists on this imbospitable ceast was not encouraging, especially when it was found that the Danish steamer which regularly visits the settlement had been stove in by ice and would not arrive this year. It began to look as if the expedition might have to winter in Greenland and short rations were served in anticipation of such a catastrophe.

catastrophe. It was learned, however, through the Danish governor that several American fishing-schooners were on the halfbut banks near Holsteinberg, 150 miles north ishing-schooners were on the halfout banks near Holsteinberg, 150 miles north. To secure one of these vessels, Dr. Cook, with Messra. Rogers, Porter and Dunning and four Eskimos started for the bank in an open boat. After a stormy voyage, lasting ten days, they found the Rigal and brought her to the assistance of the people on the disabled steamer and the passengers were transferred to the Rigel. The Miranda then took the Rigel in tow and left Sukkefttoppen in August Intending to proceed directly to St. Johns, Newfoundland. All went well for two days, but a heavy sea the second night weakened the top of the ballast tank on which an enormous pressure was exerted and it gave way at 12:30 a.m. on August 23. Three blasts of the whistle gave warning to the Rigel to stand by. The night was cold, dark and foggy and the vessels bounded like balls on the billows.

the whistle gave warning to the kigel to stand by. The hight was cold, dark and foggy and the vessels bounded like balls on the billows.

On board the Miranda all was confusion. The firemen, leaving the boiler-room without permission, cut loose the lifeboat, which was immediately dashed to pieces against the ship's side, and they were only kept in submission at the point of the captain's revolver. The carpenters tried in vain to stop the leak with blankets and mattresses, and at daylight, as water was invading the coal-bunkers and a storm was threatening, the ship was abandoned. The crew was taken aboard the schooner. It was fortunate that the passengers were already on the Rigel, as the transfer coull hardly have been effected under the trying conditions without loss of life. Nothing except the sailors' bags were saved from the Miranda. The passengers lost all their bagsage except the clothing worn when they went on board the Rigel at Sukkertoppen. Many of them lost expensive scientific instruments and hunting equipments.

toppen. Many of them lost expensive scientific instruments and hunting equipments.

All the botanical and geological coffections and the photographs, probably the finest ever taken in Greenland, went down with the Miranda. Prof. Diesch lost a fine lot of Labrador and Greenland birds. The journey homeward was without incident other than the adverse winds and insufficient provisions, only ten days' supplies for forty men having been placed on the Rigel, and the addition for the Miranda's crew made ninety-one persons on board this little craft. The passengers slept in the hold on top of the salt and fish. Gulls and other seabirds constituted the only fresh meat of the party for the last ten days. Too great credit cannot be given to Capt. Dixon and the crew of the Rigel for their efforts in behalf of those whom they had rescued. The party will have a banquet at South Sydney before leaving, at which a handsome testimonial will be presented to Capt. Dixon.

The lost ship Miranda was built in 1884 for the St. John and New York trade. She is famous as the vessel which lost the celebrated Leary timber-raft off Long Island Sound. For two years past she has been running to Central America and the West Indies. She is said to have been insured for $90,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The government of San Salvador has exhausted its stock of depositions, and seems to have no oral testimony to offer in the have no oral testimony to offer in the extradition proceedings now pending in the United States District Court here against Gen. Antonio Eneta and his fellow-refugees. The depositions presented so far have not been entirely staisfactory to the prosecution, inasmuch as a great deal of the testimony has been stricken out under the ruling of the court that the American law relating to the admissibility of evidence must obtain during the proceedings.

The first deposition relates to the killing of Thomas Canas, a teamster, whom Gen. Exeta and Jun Clentuegos encounder.

The thair flight to the sea. The tered during their flight to the sea. The second accuses Gen. Clenfueges and Manuel Cassin with shooting at Andros Amaya, with whom Cassin was at war. The third deposition is in connection with the forcible taking of $2584 from the International Bank of Salvador and Nicaragua by Gen. Ezeta. Then came a long accusation, charging the refugees with accusation, charging the refugees with shooting Cesar Alfaro and the hanging of Cassimo Henriquez, revolutionists, who had opposed Exeta's cause. Other charges of burning houses and shooting other per-sons were brought out.

But very soon after the convening of the court this morning counsel for the defense announced that they had no-further depositions at hand. Dr. Calderon, the local consul for San Salvador, was sworn. He testified that important documents, intended as evidence against the accused, had been dispatched to him, and would arrive on the next steamer from Central America. Upon this showing the prosecution moved for a continuance of the case. Judge Morrow refused to grant a continuance. The defense then moved for a dismissal of the charges, asserting that sufficient evidence to hold the prisoners had not been adduced. This motion, too, was overruled. The defense, after some delay, decided to put in evidence to substantiate their plea of lack of judisdiction of the United States courts. Commander Thomas of the gurboat Bennington was called to the witness stand. It was the announce d intention of the defense to prove that the prisoners had really been kidnaped into the country, their uemands to be permitted to leave the kinneads.

fense to prove that the prisoners had really been kidnaped into the country, their uemands to be permitted to leave the gunboat at La Libertad and Acapulco having been refused, and that they could not be considered within the jurisdiction of the court inasmuch as they had been forcibly and illegally landed upon American soil. Commander Thomas testified briefly as to the incidents of the rebellion in San Salvador, but was prevented from stating why he had detained refugees on board the Benningfon.

he had detained retuges on board the denning fon.

Judge Morrow finally ruled that the province of the court was to consider the prisoners within its jurkdiction, and not to consider the means by which they got there. In other words, the court decided not to go behind the returns of the United States Marshal. This means that unless resort is had to habeas corpus proceedings in another court the prisoners will be tried on the merits of the evidence presented against them by the government of San Salvador.

Ezeta was called as a witness in his own behalf. He denied the charge that he had caused Henriques to be hanged, and said that he did not know of his death until informed of it by his officers. Ezeta added, however, that he thought Henriques had been well hanged, because he was a rebel. He said that he killed Thomas Cancas in self-defense, and that the money taken from the Bank of Nicaragua was merely borrowed to pay his soldiers.

Gen. Colcho was also examined, but there are no specific charges against him. The case went over until tomorrow.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5.—The State Fair is now fully under way, and all that is required to make it a success is the large attendance of people from the country, which its attractiveness warrants. The pavilion never presented a handsomer appearance, and if it does not draw the usual number of visitors, it will be because for some reason or other they cannot get here. Not the least among the attractions in the exposition buildings are the foreign exhibits and paintings from the World's Fair and the San Francisco Midwinter Fair. Board of Library Directors was held yesterday at the usual hour.

Bills to the amount of $350 were approved and ordered paid.

The librarian reported that the circulation of books during August was the largest in the history of the library, the total being 41,947. The home use alone was 29,157 volumes against 22,473 for August, 1893. New members numbered 397, the active membership numbering 16,681 persons. The total number of books now in the library is 37,251. The Book Committee was authorized to buy some urgently needed and requested books. That committee presented their report, which was approved by the board as follows:

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3, 1894.

To the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Public Library—Gentlemen: Inasmuch as the time has arrived for determining the amount of books which may be purchased for the current year, we, your Book Committee, make the following report, in order that the board may consider, not only what amount should be expended for books, but what class of books should be purchased, and whether our rules need amendment in any respect, either as to the censorship of books to be placed upon the shelves, or in the manner of distributing the same for use on the premises, or for home circulation. And to those ends we report:

those ends we report:

First—That no books can be placed upon the shelves, either by purchase or denation, except upon a requisition signed by the Book Committee. That this committee has, by its requisitions since April, 1889, so caused to be placed upon the shelves of the library some thirty-five thousand volumes. In exercising their duty of censorship of what books should be admitted into the library your committee has always endeavored.

Firstly, never to permit entrance to any work which could be classed as simply immoral. The amount of labor performed by this unpaid committee in this regard can hardly be appreciated. Of course it was to be expected that, notwithstanding our utmost endeavors, some unworthy book should slip through our fingers. We are happy to say that we know of but one instance in five years, and that was a book in the French language, and now destroyed.

Secondly, There are many books which stroyed.

Secondly, There are many books which have become classics, and must imperatively be in a library for the use of students of literature, and are yet unfit for the general reader. With regard to these books, the rule of the library is to mark them either "L" or "P," with the same effect, to-wit, that the attendant must refer the applicant to the librarian, who will issue a special permit to a proper person.

must refer the applicant to the librarian, who will issue a special permit to a proper person.

We have had considerable trouble in this regard. For instance, Boccaccio's "Decameron" is of course marked "P." It happens that in the last year's course of reading of the Chautauquans (a well-known reading association under the auspices of the Methodist church) the "Decameron" is on the printed list. As a consequence we have had many calls for that book from Chautauquans, and we have been much criticised because of our having only one copy of such an "important work," and because we would not give out the book even to young children bringing the cards of their parents. We have had the same trouble from about the same class of persons as to De Foe's "Moll Flanders," and other works of the same class. We have studiously avoided calling attention in our Finding List to this class of books, and only in one or twe instances has the indicative letter crept into copy.

Thirdly it is a very grave and much-disputed question how far a library management can exercise parental discrimination over the reading of its patrons. We have, pezhaps, gone as far in this direction as any library in the country, and have been much criticised therefor. For instance, we have been criticised for ostracising the "Kreutzer Sonata" of Toistoi, the works of Zola, Helen M. Gardner, and others. But we still think that, to say the least, the time has not yet arrived for placing those books on our shelves.

The methods we have adopted in supervising the distribution of books are as follows:

First—As to particularly dangerous books, they are as above stated out on the "Per-

Vising the distribution of books are as follows:

First—As to particularly dangerous books, they are as above stated put on the "Permission List," and marked "P."

Second—Many others, which on some accounts would not be suitable for general circulation, are put on the "Reference List" and marked "R." These books are not given out for home use, and are ordinarily only called for by students.

Third—We have carefully selected such books as would in our judgment be good reading for juveniles, marked them in the "Finding List" with an "X," and called especial attention of the young to these "X" books.

Fourth—By arrangement with the Board of Education and the public school teachers, a large proportion of the pupils of our public schools are supplied with books only through their teachers, who select a certain number of books every week for their pupils.

h—We have at all times solicited. Fifth—We have at all times solicited, and have been anxious, and are still anxious, to receive suggestions as to the books to be purchased or retained, and have been favored with much help in this regard from the patrons of the library. In fact, we have spared no labor in endeavoring typroperly exercise our functions, and cannot see wherein our methods can be improved. We see no way in which we can assume all the functions of pastor, parent, and guardian, but submit the matter to your judgment.

ROUTINE MATHERS ATTENDED TO BY THE BOARD.

The Board of Health met yesterday aftermon with Drs. Nadeau, Kurtz and Mayor Rowan present. After transacting some minor business the board referred a complaint of Delia L. Whipple to the Health Officer. The complaint asid:

"I wish to call the attention of your bonorable body to the unsanitary condition of the excavation at the neithwest corner of Third street and Broadway. It mas been a malodorous nuisance for many weeks, but during the protracted heated term has been almost unbearable, and by reason of the rank effluvia arising from the alime which rises to the surface it is amenace to the health of all those flving in the vicinity, who herewith join me in the request that you will have the abovenamed nuisance speedily abated."

Louisa Claussen was examined as to her qualifications as a midwife, and it was decided not to issue a certificate to her. Health Officer Powers was granted a few days' leave of absence after which the board adjourned.

The sanitary condition of the excavation at Broadway and Third street is stated to have been complained of two or three times before. The owner is a non-resident and the agent each time he has been notified to abate the nuisance has made an apparent attempt to do so, but has not abated it effectually. As soon as work on the building is begun the trouble caused by stagnant water will undoubtedly be permanently remedied.

The Council failed to take any action on the matter, and the wholesale dealers refused to pay their August licenses, after being repeatedly notified by the proper officers. There seemed to be no way to avoid the unpleasant duty, and so the complaints were filed as stated.

Work is being done in the City Engineer's office on the preparation of plans for the sewering of the district bounded neer's omee on the preparation of plans for the sewering of the district bounded roughly by First, Ward and Temple streets, and the western city boundary. The district is a difficult one to sewer for the reason that its topography is rough, and it is practically out of the question to lay the main sewers of the district along the streets, at least in a large portion of it. Another difficulty is the fact that the natural drainage arroyo running through the district is, when it reaches the western interceptor, near Ward street, about twelve feet lower than the interceptor, thus rendering it impossible to drain all of the area in the district into the western interceptor. One of the propositions thought of its to run main sewers on each side of the arroyo at as low an elevation as will permit of their emptying into the interceptor. By so doing it is thought that nearly all of the area in the district would be afforded drainage.

Miss Nellie Cheeseman, the stenogra-pher in the City Clerk's office, was taken suddenly ill white at work yesterday morning. She was carried home, and was afterward reported to be in improved condition.

This decision was reached in the opinion of the Supreme Court on the theory that under and by virtue of the terms of the written contract which existed between defendants and one Hill, they were compelled to allow the latter's assigns to permanently connect a pipe to their pipe. This, however, is held to be an erroneous construction of the contract, and for this and other reasons the judgment and an order denying a motion for a new trial are reversed and the case remanded for a new trial.

Every one knows that addi-tions have been made to the old building, but few, perhaps, are aware of the exten-tof these additions, which make the school as it now stands, one of the finest on the Coast. At either end are broad staircases ten feet wide, extending from the basement to the third story. These, together with the old ones, make four exits from the building. There are over twenty new classrooms which are very attractive in their rough, gray plastering and light wood finish: Forty-five classrooms and recitation rooms are for the use of the Normal and Model School departments, twenty-two being used for the training school. Besides these, there is a library, which contains between three thousand and four thousand volumes, and has a capacity for twelve thousand. This room is sixty-five feet long and well lighted. A museum and laboratories for biology and physics is enthe fourth floor, as are also large and pleasant offices for the principal and preoptress, and a reception room for visitors. The new auditorium is generally conceded to be the finest in the State. It is 80x100 feet in size, and is finely lighed. There are 510 opera chairs in the room, and a capacity for scating 1200 people by putting in extra chairs. The building is heated and wentilated by the fan system, and nearly all the rooms are connected with the Principal's office by a system of electric bells and telephones.

FELL OFF THE BLUFF.

Inquest on the Body of the Dead Sailor.

Cates held an inquest Coroner Cates held an inquest yesterday morning over the remains of M. Rokka, the sailor who was picked up unconscious at the foot of a bluff at Santa Monica Monday forenoon, and who afterward died at the Receiving Hospital in this city. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death from wounds received from falling off from the bluff at Santa Monica Sunday night while returning to his ship.

The club, or stick, found not far from where the deceased was discovered unconscious, was brought to the police station yesterday. It is of quite heavy wood, about four feet in length and slightly gnarled. There are what appears to be blood stains about one foot from the heavier end, which is somewhat broken. The stick will weigh about four or five pounds.

about one foot from the heavier end, which is somewhat broken. The stick will weigh about four or five pounds.

Tom Sampson of Santa Monica is doubtless the last man to see Rokka alive, if the accident theory is accepted. Sampson was returning from the canyon to town about 7 o'clock Sunday evening and stumbled upon Rokka asleen in the road. He was the worse for liquor. Sampson woke him up and induced him to come townwards with him as far as the cement walks on Ocean avenue. But here Rokka, somewhat sohered, insisted on starting back to the whanf. He was never again seen alive after the two men parted. Sampson says that when they passed the spot near where Rokka afterwards went over, he heard a noise as if some one was breaking off a small tree. The club found near the spot was the trunk of a small tree, whose jagged stump is not far from where the dead man's hat was found.

HEY are better than the price would indicate. We have seventy-five Jackets that are not late style garments. We can peddle them out slowly for $5 to $10 each. We don't care to do that; the price is made $1 each for the choice. They are suitable for schoolgirls and for riding and driving in the cool mornings and evenings. They will save your better garments. Then there is the shirt waist bargains. They have been greatly reduced in price to close out every shirt waist in stock; 35c for the 50c and 60c qualities; 50c for the 75c and the 90c grades; $1 for the $1.50 and $1.75 qualities. We have but a few of the kid glove bargains. Gloves that have been $1.50, $1.75 and $2 a pair now the choice for 50c. They are men's gloves but are small sizes. They are just the thing for ladies' driving and working gloves. We say to you candidly that price is not considered in the closing out of odds and ends. The only question is what will sell the goods the quickest. Lisle thread and cotton gloves; they have been marked to sell from 50c to 75c a pair, now 10c a pair or three pairs for 25c. The cheap table linens are melting away under the big cut in prices. The 75c quality for 50c; the $1 grade for 75c. We have not mentioned the bargains in stamped linens. It is impossible to quote prices so as to give you an idea of the values at the present time. We are doing a large business in Muslin Underwear and corsets; the prices are made an object to you in Muslin Underwear at the present time. A few little odd lots very much under price; some 25, some 33, some 50 per cent, of a reduction. The September Delineators 5c a copy; the regular price is 15c. We have a bale or two of extra good brown muslins; price now is 64c a yard. Pocket books: The regular price has been 50c and 75e; now the choice for 25c. Children's hats: The price has been $1, now 50c; this takes in a small line only. It is not a question of profits on the odd lots in the house. We have made the profit on these goods. The policy of all good merchants is to keep the stock fresh with bright, nev, saleable goods. Don't you want a Black Dress? There is a great craze all over the country for black goods of all kinds. We show the best values you ever saw at 65c and 75c a yard. Pure English colored Mohairs; they are great dust-resisters.

John Burr is Nominated for Sheriff.

Exciting Scenes in the Republican Convention—Cline Defeated Overwhelmingly.

The Work of Reform Well Started and Anti-ring Candidates are Leading the Procession— Other Nominations.

The Republican County Convention, fol-wing up the work done on Tuesday, last ght broke the combination state and ed John Burr of San Fernando for ering held in the county. the two opposing elements of the conven-tion, the ring and the anti-ring, realized that the test must be made and that the relative strength of either side must be exbibited. The battle was a bitter one, and the victory, for that reason, all the more glorious. There were six candidates, but the two principal contestants were Cline, the Lindley-Webber candidate, and John Burr, the San Fernando fartner. The remainder of the candidates held the balance of power and they showed very plainly that the anti-ring sentiment was strong by rallying around Burr and snowing Chine under by the decisive vote of 360 to 210. During the time the three ballots were being taken whid excitement prevailed and feeling ran high. Lindley-Webber men cushed around in a half-frantic manner. They succeeded in securing a great many proxies and were very much encouraged until the second ballots was reached. Then their hopes began to fail them, as they might, for not one of the other candidates, who have repudiated ring influence, could be expected to come to their assistance. The cry of reform, which had been the wastchword of the present convention from the time the temporary chairman was elected, was re-echeed and its effect was like the bugle-call to the trooper. The workers for clean politics gathered around the standard and the ballot furnished ammumistion with which to defeat the enemy. This done, the, crowd of sleepy, but nevertheless satisfied, delegates manothed out of the hall in triumph and sought their beds to gain a little sleep preparatory to renewing the contest this morning.

paratory to renewing the contest this morning.

The work of the convention yesterday was important, and in all instances the dominant power for clean methods had sway. Superior Judges were nominated in the persons of Waldo M. York and Walter Van Dyke, the incumbents, and Spurgeon Riley secured the nomination for County Superintendent of Schools.

Mrs. Galpin made an effort to obtain the nomination for the latter position, but it appears that the lady has tied herself up to too many other parties to make her candidacy by the Republicans viewed with particular favor. It was probably due to these alliances that she declined to appear on the stage yesterday and indorse the Republican platform, and from that moment her downfall was assured. Riley was nominated by a large majority. The ladies were out in force to hear the result, and it was very gratifying to notice, they did not repeat the distasteful proceeding of the day previous by soliciting the support and votes of the delegates.

The convention hall was crowded yes.

soliciting the support and votes of the delegates.

The convention hall was crowded yesterday much beyond its capacity, and the air at times within it was almost stifling. The ladies on the stage filled every available space, many of them being obliged to stand up much of the time during the day and evening sessions.

This morning the convention will meet at 9 o'clock, and the nomination for County Clerk will at once be proceeded with. Now that the Sheriff has gone to the country it is believed that the leading city candidate for Clerk will carry off the prize, without doubt. At any rate the pace has been set and the slate and ring candidates can expect but little from the hands of the representative Republicans now gathered together.

His resolution was to the effect that the County Central Committee hereafter prescribe the form, size and color of ballois to be used at the primary elections and that all ballots not conforming to the specifications be rejected. Mr. Williams said that during the last election a number of ballots had been marked and the scercey of the ballot thus destroyed. This resolution was also unanimously adopted.

The chairman asked if the convention desired to take a recess while the County Central Committee was being selected.

There were cries of "No," and the roll was then called.

FOR SUPERIOR JUDGES.

FOR SUPERIOR JUDGES.

"The next order of business is now reached," said Chairman Allen, "the nomination of two Superior Judges. I now declare nominations in order."

There was a moment of silence, and the chairman resumed; "Is it possible that there are no candidates for the judgeship?"

Hubbell came forward to make a nomination.

Mr. Hubbell saik that he was glad to appear before a county convention for the fifteenth time, and his candidate was C.
C. McComas. Mr. Hubbell made a short speech and then retired from the platform.

Maj. W. C. Furrey was, called to the chair, while M. T. Allen made a nomination. Mr. Allen reviewed the lift of Judge Walter Van Dyke, and after paying a high tribute to the latter's ability, offered his name for the consideration of the convention.

offered his name for the consideration of the convention.

Dr. le Moyne Wills of the Second Ward nominated ex-Judge W. A. Cheney. In nominating Judge Wardo M. York, D. P. Hatch gained the good will of the convention by speaking in a plain and straightforward way. He did not waste time in a long eulogy, but came to the point at once.

Other nominations were made as follows: Louis Gottschalk nominated Charles McFarland; C. C. Davis nominated N. P. Conrey; Lionel A. Sheldon nominated W. S. Wright, and G. S. Stearns nominated Edwin Baxter.

But few seconding speeches had been made when the noon recess was taken.

THEY ARE NOMINATED FOR THE SUPERMOR BENCH.

At the opening of the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock W. T. Williams moved that the candidates for Superior Judge appear before the convention and be presented.
The motion was lost.

Mr. Wasson of Pomona seconded the nomination of Judge Waldo M. York.
Mr. Arthur of Pasadena said that the gentleman preceding him had said that Waldo M. York had no peer in the county for the position on the bench.
Wasson of Pomona jumped up at this and exclaimed: "I said York had no superior, not peer; I will not be misquoted here."

The chair called for order, and Arthur was allowed to finish his seconding speech.

The chair called for order, and Arthur was allowed to finish his seconding speech. H. H. Appel started to offer a resolution, but he was restrained by the chair, and instructed to present his resolution after the ballot had been taken.

Appel's resolution was that no ballot be counted unless it bear the names of two candidates for Superior Judge. It was adopted.

Six tellers were appointed, and the balloting was then commenced.

The chairman was reminded that there was much confusion in the rear of the hall, and he said: "I see a great many friends in the lobby, but if they do not keep quiet every mother's son of them will be put out." (Laughter.)

While the vote was being taken Maj. Furrey objected to the methods pursued and claimed that some chairmen of delegations were depositing votes in quantities for the discrations they represented.

and claimed that some chairmen of dele-gations were depositing votes in quantities for the d'legations they represented. "The tellers are not allowed to receive votes except from individual voters or per-sons holding proxies," ordered Chairman Allen, and his decision was received with

YORK AND VAN DYKE. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Wright, 203. Conrey, 25. Cheney, 39. McComas, 87.

Conrey, 39.

McComas, 37.

Baxter, 15.

McFarland, 122.

The total number of votes was 517½; necessary to a choice, 259.

The chair announced that he would declare Waldo M. York nominated, but as second choice, Judge Van Dyke licked orehalf of a vote.

W. T. Williams said that he knew that Judge Van Dyke would not accept the nomination unless it was by a majority, and Chairman Allen echoed his sentiments. The delegates were therefore ordered to prepare their ballots for a second vote.

The twenty-six delegates from Pasadena who had favored Wright for nomination, announced that they were ready to stand by Judge York, seeing that the sentiment had been contrary to their wish. W. S. Wright's name was therefore withdrawn. Edmond Lockett of Pasadena bespoke for York a hearty support in behalf of his delegation.

Some one arose to move that Judge Van Dyke be nominated viva voce, but Williams would not be satisfied that way, and insisted that a ballot be taken.

With Wright out of the race, the roll-call thus again commenced.

There was no doubt as to the result on the second ballot after the first few districts were heard from, for sverything went Judge Van Dyke's way. The ballot stood: Van Dyke, 379; Charles McFarland, 56; McComas, 49; Conrey, 3.

H. A. Pierce's motion that nominating speeches be made from the floor thereafter, and that each speech be not more than three minutes long, and that but a brief statement re made in seconding, was carried.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

Nominations for County Superintendent of Schools were declared in order.

James C. Reeves of Downey was the firs James C. Reeves of Downey was the first delegate to secure the floor. He said that he rose to place a man in pomination for the office. He was from a Democratic stronghold, where Republicans were few, but, however scarce, the few were good, and John H. Strine was one of them.

John Roberts of Long Beach nominated Kate Tupper Galpin.

and John H. Strine was one of them.
John Roberts of Long Beach nominated
Kate Tupper Galpin.
Walter S. Moore arose to make some sort of a speech, no one knew for whom,
and a point of order was raised.
"Are you making a nemination?" inquired the chair.
"I'll tell you when I get through," exclaimed Moore, in a superior way.
"I sak you, do you intend to nominate any one?" asked the chair again.
Moore started to make the same reply that he had vouchsafed before, in an almost insolent manner, when Mr. Flint shouted: "Sit down, sir."
There were many cheers, and the ladies adopted the tactics of the theater gods and hissed. It seemed almost surprising how readily the women got into men's and boys' ways, even to convention and ballotbox methods.
Appel of the Eighth Ward, in a fit of gal-

boys' ways, even to convention and ballot-box methods.

Appel of the Eighth Ward, in a fit of gallantry somewhat unusual in its nature, arose and said he believed that, while the delegates had been restricted to two seconding speeches when men were nominated, the same rule should not be enforced as against women candidates.

W. H. Carlton nominated E. P. Rowell of Redondo; Samuel Merrill nominated Horace A, Brown; W. T. Williams nominated Spurgeon Riley.

Mrs. Galpin's women friends were somewhat struck with the fear that they would be "jobbed" on the count, and some of their number suggested that a committee be delegated to look after her interests. Not one, however, had the temerity to crowd, the tellers, and very soon the roll was called. The announcement made by the tellers was as follows: Riley, 149; Brown, 90; Rowell, 72; Strine, 62; Mrs. Galpin, 132.

There was still no choice on the second ballot, and the name of Mr. Strine having been withdrawn the tally showed that Riley had received 214 votes, Brown, 48; Rowell, 49; Mrs. Galpin, 173.

Those who favored Mrs. Galpin were here instructed to force an adjournment, and as it was getting late the convention willingly agreed to close the session and take an hour's receas. Meanwhile the lady candidate sent out in a hurry to have a quantity of tickets printed for distribution among the delegates when the evening session was called.

EXCITING SCENES OF THE CONVENTION.

CLENE DESPEATED.

When Chairman Allen hurrled to the platform at 7:40 o'clock and struck the big mailet on the table, Horace Brown wanted to withdraw his name from the contest for the nomination for Superintendent of Schools. He very inappropriately urged the convention to vote for a "noble woman."

The chair said that the latter part of

THE PROXY QUESTION.

The chairman called attention to the fact that single members of delegations had voted a number of proxies. He wanted to know whether the convention desired to take action on the question.

Lewis Thorne moved that no delegate be allowed to hold more than one proxy.

H. A. Pierce moved that the motion be laid on the table.

H. H. Appel made a spirited speech in defense of the proxy system as allowed.

Rose of Pasadena said that the secret ballot system had been crammed down his throat, and he believed that the other side should now take their medicine in good faith.

The motion of Mr. Thorne was laid upon the table.

The motion of Mr. Thorne was laid upon the table.

A motion that all outstanding puries be at once reported to the secretary, however, was unanimously carried.

After the secretary had recorded a number of proxies Capt. Gilbert Overton secured the floor and said: "Gentlemen, the condition of affairs here is a disgrace to the convention. I move that we adjourn until tomorrow."

There and been many rumors about votes being bought outright, and it was said that some boodle delegates held as many as fifteen purchased proxies.

Williams's motion was that no delegate be allowed to hold more than two proxies. Williams had said that Walter Moore was acquainted with political methods, and that when he smelled fraud, it was sure to exist.

Chairman Allen delivered the gavel for a moment to George H. Stewart, and took the floor. His speech was fiery, and the great crowd applauded, him to the echo. Allen said: "You passed yesterday a rule in the interest of clean politics, which it seems some have been able to avoid. It has been possible for the gang to go out on the sidewalk and make up their combinations and to come back and endeavor to work their schemes through."

The uprour of applause that greeted, Allen's talk was deafening, and when Williams's motion was put it was carried amidst one great long yell.

The voice that answered "no," was avery small one, for the ring saw their cause fading away and did not dare to offer any further opposition:

Delegates stood up on seats and waved hats and canes and handkerchiefs. The ladies joined in the cry, and throughout the hall, from floor to galleries, the noise of victory floated up with a deafening roar. The excitement was intense for several moments, but finally comparative quiet was restored, and Booth of the Second Ward moved that nominations for Sheriff be made. The motion was carried unanimously. FOR SHERIFF.

E. Lockett of Pasadena took the floor to nominate J. C. Cline. Before the dele-gate had finished his talk time was called gave nan mushed his talk time was called, and, the convention refusing to bear him further, the chairman was obliged to order Mr. Lockett to take his seat.

Some one moved that the nominations close. There were but few voices in assent to this premature proposition, and it is needless to say that the motion was not put.

Matthew T. Allen nominated W. A.

matthew T. Allen nominated W. A. Hammel.

Dr. Wernigk objected to having the delegate who nominated Cline called down and Allen allowed to proceed.

Dr. Wernigk was declared out of order. W. T. Wilhams nominated John Burr of San Fernando.

E. C. Hine nominated H. S. Clement.

Col. Treat offered the name of Eugene Maxwell, and W. S. Foley nominated Lestor D. Rogers.

There were no further nominations, and a motion was made that the convention adjourn until 9 o'clock this morning. The motion was lost.

S. W. Burk, known to history as the "pumpkin roller of Rivers," was warm. He wanted to know whether there was any objection to the "old men taking of their coats and getting down to work."

There was no objection, and Burk proceeded to operate in his shirt sleeves.

As the first ballot was being counted, H. H. Appel came upon the stage, conted, H. H. Appel came upon the stage, to getter with others, to watch the tellers count. The convention objected to the proceeding, and insisted that all persons be put off the stage except the members of the press and the officers of the convention, and the sergeant-at-arms carried out his instructions to this end.

On the first ballot there were 511 votes cast, of which Cline received 212; Burr, 151; Hammell, 71; Clements, 54; Maxwell, 17; Rogers, 6.

After the result of the first ballot had been announced, and the chairman had said that there had been no choice, as the candidate selected should receive 256 yotes, another motion to adjourn was made and defeated.

It was 10:20 o'clock when the roll-call was commenced on the second ballot.

It was 10:20 o'clock when the roll-call was commenced on the second ballot. By this time many of the spectators had become tired out, and the galleries of the hall were soon, to a large extent, vacated, as well as the seats on the stage.

The result of the second ballot again gave neither candidate the required 256 votes. Cline received 221 votes; Burr followed clysely with 209; Hammell, 62, and Clements 18.

Cries of "Burr, Burr," were more numerous than those of "Cline," and again a motion to adjourn and complete the contest in the morning was voted down with a burrah.

Burr had gained fifty-eight votes and Hammell at once endeavored to throw his strength over to the candidate from San strength over to the candidate from San Fernando.

Horace Appel shouted, "Stand by Chine," but his cry was lost in yells for Burr.

For a short time there was some tall skirmishing done and Cline appeared in person with several of his deputies on the floor of the convention and made a final effort for the nomination.

A babel of confused voices rose from the excited crowd as the third ballot was being made up and the secretary could scarcely be heard as he called the roll.

One by one the delegations filed up and deposited their ballots in the hat and went back to their seats. Interest was intense and the few spectators who remained strained their ears to catch the names as they came from the teller's lips.

When the tally sheets were finally completed and the chairman stood ready to announce the result a hush fell upon the assembly and a pin could have been heard to strike the floor had it been dropped.

There was nothing uncertain in the cry of approval that went up when it was known that the slate had been broken and that "Hones:" Jhn. Burr of San Bernardino would be the next Republican candidate before the people when the November election comes.

Other Nominations. N. BULLA NOMINATED FOR

The Seventy-fifth Assembly Convention, composed of the Second and Third Ward lelegations, met again yesterday at noon, and, after agreeing upon a modified form of the secret ballot, proceeded to select R. N. Bulla as the nominee. Henry C. Carter was defeated, the vote standing 52 to 33. was defeated, the vote standing 52 to 33.

A short while after the nomination was made, Carter met George Reed, a member of the Third Ward delegation who is supposed to have become a Lindley man, and engaged in a controversy with the latter over the subject of voting in the convention. Several blows were exchanged, but no blood flowed, and the two light-weights of the Third soon went their different ways.

The great need of the district, M. Graham points out, is a new building. Although the rooms have been ovencrowded, the teachers have by their fidelity and energy been able to de good work. In the High School great progress has been made, although the complaint, of crowded rooms pupiles particularly there. RIVERSIDE, Sept. 5.—(Special Corre spondence.) The convention over, the streets of Riverside have resumed their normal quiet. There were a few delegates and others upon the streets this morning, but they were soon upon the outgoing trains, and there was but little to show that a convention had absorbed the attention of the whole populace a few hours ago, save the national colors draping the ago, save the national colors draping the entrance to the operahouse and the placards at the Glenwood designating the head-quarters of the various delegations. The scene at the Glenwood Hotel for several days past had been a particularly lively one, and the lack of stir there today was in most marked contrast. The way the delegations were handled by Mr. Miller at that popular hotel reflects great credit upon him. The livery stables that have been previding rigs for the hungry office-seekers will no doubt miss the patronage of these men, and the cigar stores will not have so many calls for the material for friendly smokes. To be sure, another county convention is to be held in this county tomofrow, but at Pérris; and there is some speculation as to candidates who will secure a place upon the ticket, but the interest is mild compared with the convention of yesterday.

THE FIRST BIG GUN OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Speeches by S. G. Millard and Lee Fairchild—Medical Association Meeting-News Notes and Personals.

SAINTIA AMA, Sept. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The first big gun of the campaign, on the Republican side, discharged in this city, was by Spencer G. Millard, the Republican condidate for Lieutepant-Governor, and Lee Pairchild, both from the city of Los Angeles. The meeting, was held in Neill's Hall, and many were present who have not herestofore been classed as workers in the grand old rarty. This, of course, is taken as is good sign, that many of the voters are dired of Democracy and disaster, and are intending to do what they can toward furthering the principles of the Republican party in local and Siagts affairs, and therefore get a good start for the Presidential campaign in 1896. Previous to the addresses delivered by Mesers. Millard and Pairchild, the Republican Club transacted a little business that it thad on hand, and this was followed by a few selections from a gise clib, consisting of Mesers. Emer Burns, Ed Lee, Tom Drips and George Keily.

Then Mr. Millard was introduced, and soon after, wamming up to his subject, five, audience was treated to one of the best political sneeches ever delivered in the city. Mr. Millard is not a large man, actiner does his appearance indicate that he has witnessed the passing of as many summers as one would naturally expect from a standard of California, but he is a natural-born orator and a deep thinker, with conservative ideas. His voice is usually very strong, but as he had jost been addressing a ten-acre lot of one would naturally expect from a standardburrer of the Republican party of the State of California, but he is a natural-born orator and a deep thinker, with conservative, ideas, iths voice is usually, very strong, but as he had inst been addressing a ten-acre lot of Republicans in Pasadena, he felt that it was broken, athough it was not. Mr. Milhard learned his Republicansism from that honest, bluff and stalward Republican. Zach Chandler of Michigan, and he never yet has forsotten the training that this veteran statesman gave him. Among other things, he said that this old war-horse once inpressed upon his mind very effectively that if he should ever become a candidate for nomination in a convention and the fellow would get there, that he should by all means take off his hat to him and loyally support him at the polis when the day of election rolled around. He spoke of the prosperous condition of the country a few years ago under Republican rule, and then drew a realistic pen ploture of the present condition of affiars under Democratic disaster and free-trade reform, all of which was so bed that 'Grover,' the prophet, felt it incumbent upon himself to call an extra session of Congress to do nothing for several months and therefore precipitate a financial crisis unon, the whole country. The gentieman made an excellent speech, and should have been heard by every voter in the city.

Following Mr. Millard's address came the humorist of the evening, the Fairchild of too Angeles, and if there was a Democratic to Ropublet in the audience who was feeling senious from any cause whatever, he was not tong affected with such a feeling, for Mr.
Fairchild soon had the audience roaning with laughter, and he kept it that way most of the time until the close of his shirty-minute address.

ing of demands for the current expenses, salaries, etc.

After the reading of the minutes, L. C. McIntosh, Western Union agent in this city, made application on the part of the company for permission to remove their pole at the edge of the alley between First and Second streets, near its intersection with Thomas, and erect a forty-foot pole so as to enable the company to stretch its wires above those of the electric and the telephone company's, as it was the intention to remove the down town office from the Union Block to C. H. Marshall's, on the south side of Second street.

Marshall's, on the south side of Second street.

The board, after considerable discussion pro and con, with explanations from McIntosh, finally decided not to grant the request until a franchise was secured by the Western Union in this city.

Complaint having been made by residents in that vicinity against what they termed a nuisance, conducted by Mr. Dundas on or about the corner of Fifth avenue and South Main street, the board, after some desultory talk, concluded to let the matter stand for the present, at least until some more definite shape be assumed by the matter as regards specific charges and witnesses.

some more definite shape be assumed by the matter as regards specific charges and witnesses.

The board gave notice to the City Attorney to prepare two or three ordinances in reference to the bicycle ordinance, erection of buildings within the fire limits, storing combustibles, etc., within fire limits, and requiring private premises to be put in certain sanitary condition, the idea being to have the bicycle limit cover from Palomares street east on the east to Hamilton avenue on the west, and from Holt avenue on the north to Fifth avenue on the south; to have no kind of buildings erected except brick or stone, and, to limit the amount of hay, oil, gasoline, etc. to a minimum quantity within the fire limits. The request of Frank W. Montague to have S. Hillier continued as his assistant in the Second-street saloon during this month was granted.

The beard then decided to have the Street Superintendent see that trees overhanging sidewalks are trimmed, and that the debris now in the streets near the burned districts be removed by the owners. All demands were then presented and allowed—that of the electric company being cut down to $140, after which an adjournment was taken until the evening of the 18th.

People are fast returning from the seashore resorts, and the business streets are growing livelier each day.

The news from the Republican County Convention in Los Angeles is read with intense interest by hundreds of Pomona people every morning, and the local telegraph operator is besieged with questions as to how this or that candidate fared in the convention.

Peter Fleming and George L. Henry are the latest ones to ahnounce, publicly that they have left the Democrate party and will join with the Republican party. Mr. Henry has been a very prominent and active Democrat in Pomona for ten years, but he says he is disgusted with the present Congress and mad at the administration for its stupidity.

H. L. Nash and others, ruling for the plaintiff. The case was for the use of the waters of City Creek, and the ruling gives plaintiff the water and places a permanent injunction upon defendants, restraining them from using the water at all. The decision is one of much interest to a large number of people, and will in all probability, cause much land owned by defendants to decline in value, as the property cannot be used without this water or other, which will have to be purchased, as far as can now be determined.

CAHUENGA WATER SCHEME. The Secretary Says They Will Not Touch the River.

Some days ago The Times published an article giving a brief account of the opertions of the Cahuenga Gold Mining and Irrigation Company, which, it was alleged while sinking a shaft ostensibly for gold mining, was really working on a tunnel for developing water, it being stated that it was the intention to tap the Los Angeles river. O. I. Allen, superintendent of the company, yesterday called at the Times office to deny that it was the intention to draw water from the niver. He says instead of being 1200 feet from the river, as stated in the article, they are over 2000 feet. The point where they start the tunnel is only forty-two feet below the river. They claim they are not going to touch the river at all, but expect to strike another flow of water entirely. The distance from the river is so great, they claim, that it is absolutely impossible to touch the water in that atream at all. mining, was really working on a tunnel to touch the water in that stream at all.

Viola Allen, in the role of Mrs. Bendixon, who married a miserable old Pecksniffian bigamist in order—as she presumed—to do the entirely proper and respectable thing, shone, sparkled, scintillated. She brought into her representation of the part a breezy and raev atmosphere that charmed and delighted and demonstrated again that she is one of the brightest of our American stage women. The part is quite different from any other in which she has appeared, and by her intelligent rendition of it she groved her versatility and capacity to do whatever she essays with a finish and aplomb that is magnificent.

May Robson, as the tearful Mrs, Wheedles, set the house into convulsions of laughter every time she drifted upon, the scene of action. She is an artist in makeup, and a brilliant actress—in the line of eccentric character-playing easily the peer of any who har ever appeared on these boards.

Mr. Faversham was in excellent form last night, and made a splendid Ted Morris; and Frank Mills made very much ifficeed of a rather small part. W. H. Crompton achieved a pronounced success in the role of the senile but big-hearted lover, whose affair of the heart turns out well for others. W. H. Thompson old a great-bit of playing as the eminent philanthropist and men of affairs, and Mary Hampton was as sweet and dainty as a rose in June. She is an immensely clever player. All the other people were so efficient and satisfying in their respective parts as to deserve a full measure of praise; and the

IN SOCIAL SPRERES.

Miss Marguerite Gelcich and Capt. D. W. Weldt of San Pedro were married yesterday morning at the cathedral on Main street, Father McAuliffe performing the ceremony. At precisely 10:45 o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the music of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." and proceeded to the altar. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white bengaline and leaned on the arm of Senator White, who gave her away. She was attended by her sister, who was becomingly gowned in corn-colored silk. During the ceremony soft organ music was heard, which finally swelled into the strains of the bridal march from "Lohengrin," as the party left the church.

Capt. and Mrs. Weldt will make a short bridal tour northward, and on their return will take up their residence at San Pedro, where they will be at home to their numerous driends in the handsome house which Capt. Weldt prepared for the reception of his bride.

The new electric road is expected to be in operation to Pasadena in two or three months. A long bridge has to be built just beyond Garvanza, the present termi-nus of the line, and this will keep the work back. It is not intended to supply all the power from the large power-house all the power from the rarge power-nouse here. There is capacity enough in this large plant to furnish the additional motive power for the Pasadena line, but it is considered better economy to have an independent power house, and is will be located somewhere in the synthesis part of South Pasadena, or in the southern part of Pasadena proper. The dynamo capacity will be made about 1000 horse-power.
